

Dual Producer Is Seen in Lopez

Lopez No. 2 Completed in Reef; Towne 2-B And Poe No. 5 Both Brought in This Week

Dual production, from the canyon and from the swastika were seen by oil men in the General Crude Oil Company's No. 2 Lopez well, when the test was brought in at 4,813 feet in the reef formation. Before encountering pay in the reef, operators had found oil in commercial quantities in the swastika, several hundred feet above the final depth.

General Crude is moving its rig 100 feet west of the Lopez No. 2, where they will test the swastika fully.

The Lopez No. 2 produced 15 barrels of oil in an hour on drillstem test. An official gauge of production will be made this week.

The Dr. W. H. Bryant Towne No. 2-B hit the pay Tuesday night at 4,780 feet, and indications were for good well. Tests were scheduled for Wednesday.

G. A. Poe No. 5, drilled into the swastika at 3,705 feet and prepared to complete for a producer. In a drillstem test gas came to the surface in two minutes, and oil in large quantities was recovered in five minutes. Official gauge will be made later in the week.

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company Pardue & Toler B, drilled as an offset to the original discovery well, missed the swastika, but hit canyon reef pay Saturday. Tests found 16 feet of good oil in the tool.

The well will continue to the Ellenburger to test that formation.

Skelly Oil Company, has moved in to drill an offset to the Radford-Shell, two miles west of Royston.

Drilling was continuing below 3,000 feet on the south offset to recently opened canyon sand production, two and a half miles west of Royston. The well is the Stone, Sellers & Ewing No. 1 Hardin-Simmons University.

First Wheat Cnt In Area Tuesday

Harvest Expected to Get Into Swing Here Next Week; Hail Damage Is Heavy Monday

Hamlin's first load of 1949 wheat was brought to market Thursday morning by LaFoy Patterson, who harvested it on the Staton farm southwest of Hamlin.

The wheat was cut from a 400-acre patch. The grain tested 61 pounds, and had a moisture content of 14%. It was sold to the Jack A. Harden Grain Company.

J. T. Smith, who cut the first wheat in the area, did not market his grain, but stored it.

First wheat harvested in the Hamlin area in 1949 was cut from the old Hemphill farm by J. T. Smith Tuesday of this week only five days after the first wheat harvested in the United States.

The Hemphill farm is south of Celotex, between Hamlin and McCaulley. More than 100 acres on the farm have been planted to wheat, however Smith harvested only 150 bushels of the crop.

The wheat tested 60, according to the Jack Harden Grain Co.

Harvest throughout the Hamlin area is expected to get underway in earnest early next week, and wheat growers believe it will be in full swing within 10 days.

Estimates of losses in the heavy hail storm which swept through this region Monday night varied, but most observers agreed that a loss of 30 per cent was sustained on an average.

Some fields in the Hitson community northwest of here suffered as much as 80 per cent damage, according to reports. Many other fields in the northwest section were reported to have been damaged from 30 to 40 per cent.

Lightest damage was sustained by wheat east of Hamlin, where only a few fields are said to have suffered as much as 10 to 20 per cent loss.

Fred B. Moore Jr., estimated Wednesday that at least 300,000 bushels of wheat were lost to the Hamlin area in the storm. Others placed a more conservative figure on the loss.

In the McCaulley area, southwest of Hamlin heavy damage was suffered Sunday evening in a storm which swept through that section and on to Abilene. The storm was accompanied by high winds and a heavy barrage of hail.

The storm here Monday night brought hail stones as large as eight inches in diameter, and some damage was caused to automobiles, windows and roofs of houses.

Storage of the wheat crop, which is still estimated at a bumper yield, is expected to be a local problem, according to L. H. McBride, elevator operator.

The Moore Elevator contains the only storage facilities in this area, but its capacity is insufficient to care for the expected heavy yield.

Railroad cars are expected to be plentiful, but embargoes put on by port authorities will hamper the shipping of the grain, wheat growers believe.

Three Get Badges in Scout Court of Honor

Badges of advanced rank were given to three members of the Hamlin Boy Scout troop Monday evening in a court of honor, H. E. (Jake) Lawson, scoutmaster, said.

The badges were presented by Lawson in a court ritual. Those who received them are: Benny Carroll, tenderfoot, Duane Hill, tenderfoot, and Robert Angel, first class.

Additional awards were planned, but were postponed when the storm caused the meeting to adjourn and the boys to go home.

Bank, Post Office to Close Memorial Day

The F&M National Bank and the Hamlin post office will be closed throughout the day, Monday, May 30 in observance of Memorial Day, it was announced this week.

All other establishments in Hamlin will remain open. No formal observance of the day is planned either by the American Legion post or the VFW post.

Parker May Will Attend Parley in Europe Monday

Parker May of Hamlin, executive officer of the Office of International Information, will fly to Europe May 29 to confer with United States Information Service officers in seven northern European countries.

Budgets, personnel and other administrative details of each USIS office will be among the main considerations at the conferences. The discussions will have important bearing upon the scope of the program during the next fiscal year. Plans will be made for more complete and timely documentary news service to be provided to Norway, Sweden, Finland, Iceland, Denmark, Belgium and The Netherlands.

Work to Begin Soon On Highway to Neinda

Work of surveying for a right of way for the all-weather road from Neinda to Hamlin got underway last week, it was announced by county officials.

Regional Title at Stake for Pipers

Ballinger Bearcats Formidable Foe in Game Here Friday; Caravan of Cars are Coming

Hamlin's Pied Pipers, undefeated in conference baseball play during the season, will face the crucial game of the year Friday afternoon, when they meet the Ballinger Bearcats on the Piper diamond.

The Ballinger team won the right to play the Pipers for the regional title, when they defeated Ranger 9 to 3 last Saturday in the play-off. Hamlin had drawn a bye in the first round, which put the locals into the finals.

Coaches Jesse Burditt and Truman Nix, who scouted the Ballinger-Ranger game last week, said Thursday that the Pipers will have a hard task on their hands Friday afternoon.

"However," Burditt said, "I believe the Pipers can win if the Bearcats play no better ball here than they did at home. They have a good team, and the Pipers are going to have to hustle if they take the title."

The game Friday is expected to develop into a duel between the Pipers' stellar pitcher, J. B. May, and the Bearcat hurler, Dayenport. Both men have set impressive records during the season.

Information received early in the week from Ballinger said that many business firms there will close Friday afternoon and that a caravan of boosters will come here for the contest.

The game is scheduled to begin at 2:30.

Emphasis Put on Conservation in Texas Soil Week

Special emphasis on the relation of soil condition to the general prosperity of the country, was being made this week in the annual observance of Texas Soil Conservation Week.

In Fisher County a tour was conducted of projects that have been put into practice during the past years, and guests were given a first-hand demonstration of the benefits derived from this type of work.

In Jones County, conservation officials were pointing out examples of conservation practices that have helped many farmers and ranchers to build up their lands and to restore depleted soils.

The California Creek Soil Conservation district, which includes Jones County, stressed the fact that although much has been done in the past few years, a great deal remains to be done before soils are in good condition here.

Included in the program are practices that add vital mineral content to the soils, contour and strip cropping, construction of terraces and construction of farm ponds for holding water on the land.

Business Firms Will Close for Title Ball Game

In support of the Hamlin Pied Piper baseball team, Hamlin business houses this week agreed to close their doors from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. Friday, when the local team will meet the Ballinger Bearcats here for the regional title.

Committees that surveyed the firms said 47 names of business houses were obtained on the petition to close, and several firms were not seen during the quick survey.

The committees asked those not seen to cooperate by closing for the championship contest.

"Almost everybody we saw agreed to cooperate in support of the Hamlin team," one member of the committee said. "And we believe that those who did not will decide to close before Friday."

Firms that signed the petition are: F&M National Bank, Conoco Oil Co., D. M. White, Hunter's Style Shop, Carter's Variety Store, Barrow Funeral Co., Stubbs Shoe Shop, Johnston Variety, McMahon Jewelry, Hassen Dry Goods Co., Carlton Hardware, Murrell Chevrolet Co., Cowan Cleaners, Herd's Pastry Shop, Hughes Men's Store.

Wear a Buddy Poppy Saturday--Aid a Vet

Sale of 'Buddy Poppies' will be made on Hamlin streets throughout the day Saturday, when members of the VFW auxiliary will vend the flowers.

Money derived from the sale will be used for rehabilitation of disabled veterans of both World War I and World War II. The poppies are made during the year by veterans confined to hospitals.

The auxiliary is going to attempt to sell the flowers to every individual on the streets during the day.

200 Markers to Be Bought for Hamlin Streets

Plans for the purchase of 200 street markers to be erected on Hamlin streets were discussed in a meeting of the joint Rotary-Lions clubs committee Monday evening.

The committee met in the office of E. C. Feagan, and named B. V. Newberry as chairman. Other officers of the group are Roy J. Curtis, vice chairman and Charles Gardner, secretary.

It is proposed to erect the markers, one to each block, except on Central Avenue and Lake Drive, where two markers will appear at each intersection.

Cost of the program was estimated to be approximately $1,400 for the markers and house numbers, which will be required before city mail delivery service can be established here.

The committee will ask that $1 be paid for each residence, which will pay the cost of putting up house numbers, and that $2.50 be paid for each 25-front footage by business houses for the numbering.

The surplus over cost of buying the house numbers will be used to help pay for the street markers.

The markers are of aluminum alloy, and the lettering on them will be two and one half inches high. The markers cannot be erected until the house numbering is completed.

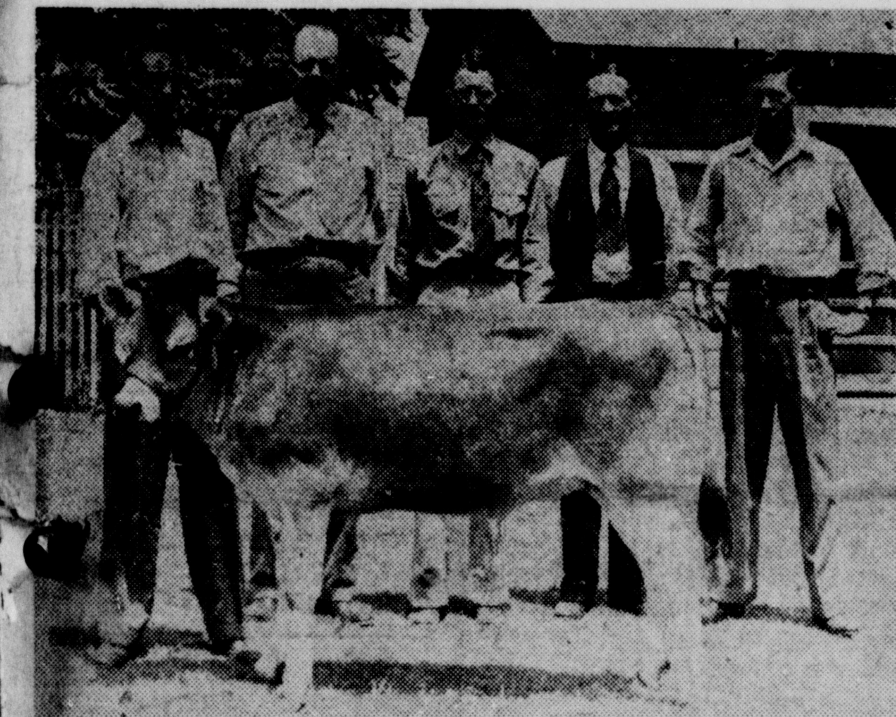

Rainfall for 5 Months Nears Total for 1948

Rainfall in Hamlin during the first five months of 1949 was within less than an inch of the total amount received during the 12 months of 1948, records at the city pump station revealed Thursday.

During the past four days total precipitation here gauged 2.33 inches, and rainfall Wednesday night was measured at 1.20 inches.

Total for the first five months is 15.15 inches, while only 16.07 inches fell during all of last year.

Wednesday night's rain was expected to add considerable water to Hamlin's municipal supply, as creeks leading into the lake were running high Thursday morning.

The Second Price

The paltry sum of ten cents you will be asked to pay next Saturday for the privilege of wearing a paper poppy is not the first price paid for the bit of twisted wire and red crepe paper.

The first price was one far more dear than any monetary fee that could be exacted from you. It was paid today and yesterday and last week and last year. It has been paid daily for many long months of pain and suffering and weary despair.

The first price was paid in the blood and sweat and pain of young men who were so strong and healthy when they marched away to battle, but who now are pitiful human wrecks with twisted and maimed bodies, and torn and broken limbs.

These thousands of living dead, who are doomed to years of suffering and despair purchased that red flower when the flag of their country was menaced, and when the freedom of all of us was endangered.

It is for their sake that you are requested to buy that flower Saturday. And it is in their honor that you will have the privilege of wearing that paper poppy.

You will be asked for only a dime. They were asked for their youth and their vigor and their very lives. You will be free to walk the streets of your home city with the flower in your lapel. They were forced to crawl through mud and gore and to face shot and shell.

The money received from the sale of those poppies will be used to help rehabilitate the men who were disabled. It will go into a fund to take care of them in their helplessness and to furnish a paltry subsistence for their dependents. Each precious penny of that time will aid these men who have given so generously.

Buy your flower with thanksgiving in your hearts and a prayer of gratitude on your lips. Buy it willingly and gladly, and wear it proudly as a token of your care for those who so willingly gave their all for you. This gesture of appreciation is the least that any of us can do now for those men whose only hope lies in the goodness and mercy of God, and in the appreciation of their fellow Americans.

A Good Investment

In spite of the erratic fiscal policy followed for these many years by the federal government, investments in federal savings bonds are still sound and provide a safe and convenient method of creating dividends for future years.

The bond drive now in progress, titled the "Opportunity Drive," is seeking to raise more than $1,000,000,000 to fund a portion of the present debt and provide funds with which to carry on governmental processes.

Jones County investors have been asked to purchase only $125,000 worth of the securities, which is a relatively small amount for our county.

The bonds will accumulate a total of 25 per cent interest over a period of 10 years, and they are cashable at any time the need arises to convert them into money. Each bond issued carries the full backing of the government, which is as much security as is behind the dollar bill in your pocket now.

And so, in spite of the prodigality of those in charge of federal fiscal affairs, it is still good business to purchase the bonds. They are as safe as the currency that you accept readily, and they bear interest.

Lefty Finds A New "Toy"

Belgium Economy Prospers on Sound Principles of Freedom of Enterprise

BY GEORGE PECK

Belgium today is a veritable oasis of free economy in a European desert of socialistic or managed economies. As a result the Belgians were the first people in Europe to regain prosperity in the postwar era. Belgium has a balanced national budget and the Belgian franc is firmly established.

Belgium has insisted that her own and Europe's recovery depend on a return to sound finance and free enterprise, not only in her own but in neighbor countries. She has proved by her own example that this is the one and only course if Europe is to succeed in binding up her wounds, repairing the ravages of war and bringing prosperity to the European continent.

As a result of Belgium having let the way in lifting government controls from internal and external trade, she has required comparatively little aid from us under the Marshall Plan. For instance, in the first year's distribution, Belgium got only $4.70 per head of population in direct help, as compared with $20 for Britain, $32 for France and $48 for Holland.

Today if you have a Belgian franc, no matter where or how you got it, you can purchase Belgian goods and services with it. Not so with the British pound. You have to purchase your British pound through the Bank of England at the official rate. Control-ridden Johnny Bril argues that this is necessary to support the currency.

Belgium has found that the more she decontrolled the better things became. Her domestic production and foreign trade have bounced back with more vigor than that of any other former occupied country. She has outstripped her neighbors in standard of living; has become an island of relative plenty in a sea of poverty-stricken, socialized nations.

And while Belgium has been staging this splendid performance to prove that that nation fares best that maintains a free economy, our economic planners, American style, are moving heaven and earth to foist on free America controls of every conceivable sort—the very kind of controls that have delayed and are still impeding the recovery of Europe, outside of Belgium.

History is replete with examples of once-great nations that have destroyed themselves by adopting government controls and putting economic planners and managers in charge of their economies. Because this nation avoided the pitfalls of controls we established the soundest economy in world history. The answer as to why a controlled-economy nation falls by the wayside while a free-economy nation flourishes, is simple. God has so ordained that the combined wisdom of all the people shall always be greater than the wisdom of a relatively small number of economic planners, no matter how brilliant those planners may be.

This brings to mind an episode in early American history. In the summer and fall of 1787 the Constitutional Convention sat in Philadelphia. That same summer John Fitch, also in Philadelphia, built the first steamboat. It is pretty generally accepted that the Constitutional Convention brought together about the wisest body of men that ever undertook a big job. They laid greatest nation.

When his boat was ready, John Fitch invited the Convention delegates to come down to the Delaware waterfront to his boat start off. The Convention was adjourned for the purpose and many of its members accepted the invitation. But, George Washington, President of the Convention, foremost among the nation's founders, and ardent advocate of developing our waterways, regarded the experiment as too illusive to justify the honor of his presence. So, when the Convention adjourned he drove off to dine with a friend.

John Fitch had invented the steamboat which was destined to revolutionize water transportation. If George Washington, Benjamin Franklin and the other wise men in that Convention could not vision the far-reaching consequences of Fitch's invention, just where will ever be found economic planners with such vision?

Which leads me to repeat that THE COMBINED WISDOM OF ALL THE PEOPLE WILL ALWAYS BE GREATER THAN THE WISDOM OF A RELATIVELY SMALL NUMBER OF ECONOMIC PLANNERS, NO MATTER HOW BRILLIANT THOSE PLANNERS MAY BE.

Haake Proves Old-Fashioned Ideas Still Work in Municipal Government

By Dr. Alfred P. Haake

Having been re-elected Mayor of Park Ridge recently, after one of the hardest campaigns ever waged against a Mayor in our city, I am wondering what happened to give me more than double the majority by which I was first elected four years ago.

You see, I am not a politician. The wiles of promise-making, the shifting of position and compromise-making have never appealed to me. Promise of principles have never appealed to me, in private life or public. I hold the idea that the same principles which guide us in our private lives should hold no less in public life. The old-timers laughed at what they called my naive efforts to give the city honest and efficient administration, to make appointments only on the basis of qualifications for office and with no regard for political considerations. Those who had found the city a source of generous income before and were now cut off poked fun at the idealist in the City Hall.

I am not a New Dealer, locally or in national affairs, and made no secret of my opposition to the stammina-destroying social security program. I believe in local, not federal responsibility for what happens to our people. And in my judgement a modern liberal is really a reactionary who brings back the days of government control over private life. For me the true liberal is he who insists on conserving and developing individual freedom and initiative against governmental encroachments.

There were many people who did not agree with my position on social security or federal aid to education, but who voted for me just the same. They gave me a mandate for honest and efficient government without the aid or direction of federal subsidies in one form or another.

They approved of my effort to harness the brains and energy of the community, without financial compensation for the men and women who so serve the community.

They apparently endorsed what I call the Park Ridge Development Commission, a body of 36 men and women who represent the four taxing bodies and other functional organizations, a true cross-section of the leadership in our community.

This commission is in reality a Board of Directors, a policy-forming body for our community. There is no power to carry out the programs the commission conceives, no authority over citizens or other organizations. The commission studies the situations, need and problem of the people, and recommends policies and programs to meet those situations.

The programs recommended are then referred, together with the reports brought in to the commission by its sub-committees, to the proper existing organization to carry out. Thus, if the matter be one of commercial development, it is given to the Chamber of Commerce, if it deals with religious it goes to the Ministerial Association.

Right now the commission is studying local taxes and seeking a way to hold them down. Four separate and independent taxing bodies appropriate for their budgets, without any present effort to ease the burden on the tax-payer. The commission will ask each of the bodies to submit its budget for mutual study and comparison, all four bodies being represented on the commission. It is believed that ways and means can be found to get the services we need without hiking up the taxes.

Each taxing body is being asked to live in its present in come. Such a request coming from a body of petitioners might not have much effect. Coming from so representative body as the Development Commission, the request is bound to be honored. And the answer will be found.

In a word, we have demonstrated in our city that a government can be organized and run to do a good job of administration on the basis of sound principles, without compromise. I believe that no less could be done in Washington, if ever we had a breed of candidates who would risk political loss in the interest of honest devotion to American principles.

Cotton Prices Sag During Week as Weak Spots Appear in Farm Markets

Many weak spots continued to appear at southwest farm markets during the past week, although some grains, feeds and livestock showed strength, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reported.

Cotton declined 50 cents to $1.50 a bale. Spot middling 15-16 inch closed Monday at 32.25 cents a pound at Dallas, and 32.65 at most other markets.

Tomatoes moved in large volume from the Lower Rio Grande Valley during the past week, and prices fell rapidly. Lug boxes of U. S. No. 1 green wrapped sold over the week end at mostly $3.25, or $2 lower than a week earlier. Green corn brought firm prices with supplies declining. Strawberries sold lower in north-west Arkansas. Poor demand weakened markets for green and wax beans in southern Louisiana.

Egg markets showed little change for the week. Most Dallas and Fort Worth dealers paid around 39 cents a dozen for current receipts, Denver 37 1-2 to 39 1-2, and New Orleans 42. Poultry sold a little lower at most markets. Fryers brought 29 to 30 cents a pound at Fort Worth, 31 at Dallas, and 25 to 28 at Denver.

Most cattle classes registered slight gains for the week at Denver and Oklahoma City. Calves sold slightly higher at Houston, but most cattle and calves brought unchanged to 50 cents lower prices at Fort Worth. San Antonio showed little change. Last week's receipts differed little from the week before. Dressed beef prices about equaled those of a week ago Monday, but veal gained $2 to 8. Good cows sold up to $19 at Texas and Oklahoma markets and $20.25 at Denver.

Hog receipts fell off again this week, and prices advanced 50 cents to $1. Dressed pork brought $3 to $9 a hundred more than a week ago. Top butcher hogs closed Monday at $18.75 at Fort Worth, $19 at San Antonio, $19.75 at Oklahoma City, and $21 at Denver. Texas markets paid $14 to $15.50 for sows, and Denver to $17.50.

Sharply increased sheep marketings brought slightly higher prices than a week ago. Choice dressed lamb brought steady to higher prices for the week, but lower grades sold weak to $1 lower. Mutton held nominally steady to higher prices for the week, but lower grades sold weak to $1 lower. Mutton held nominally steady. Medium spring lambs reached $24 at San Antonio and $27.50 at Fort Worth. Goats recorded little change.

Texas wool sales increased, with grease prices ranging by type and grade from 76 to $1.03 1-2 cents a pound. Some adult mohair sold at 35 cents f.o.b. Texas.

Corn advanced 2 cents a bushel and sorghums 5 cents a hundred pounds, while other grains sold slightly lower. No. 1 wheat closed Monday at $2.34 to $2.41 at Texas common points, No. 2 white corn $1.69 to $1.71, and mile $2.65 to $2.70.

Diminishing rice supplies and fair export demand brought a firm tone to the rice market last week. Feed prices continued to strengthen, es-

Texas Tech Offers to Store Surplus Wheat

Storage space for 16 1-2 million bushels of wheat at Pan-Tech Farms, formerly Pantex ordnance plant, near Amarillo, will be made available under plans adopted by the board of directors of Texas Technological college.

The board authorized a committee headed by Chanslor Weymouth, Amarillo, to sign leases with the Commodity Credit corporation or some other organization for the space in warehouses and igloos on the 17,000 acre property. Weymouth estimated the Panhandle wheat crop at between 45 and 50 million bushels. He said much of the wheat will spoil unless storage space is found. The committee also was authorized to employ sufficient men to maintain the Pan-Tech lands and equipment.

pecially wheat millfeeds and high protein feeds. Increased offerings of new crop alfalfa hay caused an unsettled condition in the hay market. Rains delayed peanut planting.

Plan Census of Business Firms; Help Is Needed

A census of small businesses in Hamlin will be made in the near future, it was announced this week by the Bureau of Census.

The survey will cover all retail, wholesale and service trades in Hamlin, and will provide vital information concerning the growth and present condition of thousands of smaller businesses throughout the nation.

Business firms will be asked to complete forms that will include information on net sales for the year of 1948, amount of taxes paid to state and federal governments, number of employees on the payroll, and other pertinent information.

The bureau has asked for applications from persons who would like to aid in this work. Preference will be given to those who have had experience in census work, the bureau said.

Application blanks for employment in the census may be obtained from the Abilene District Office, Room 218, Morris Building, 1129 1-2 N. 2nd St., Abilene.

Those selected for the positions will be paid $120 per hour, and will be allowed 4c per mile for use of their automobiles.

Cold Weather of Winter Failed to Kill Boll Weevil

Although a considerable area in Central Texas experienced record breaking low temperatures in late January boll weevils still show up in many cotton fields waiting for the first squares to develop according to H. G. Johnston head of the department of entomology of Texas at A&M college. The heavy blanket of snow which accompanied the sub-zero temperatures offered excellent protection for many hibernating boll weevils.

The boll weevil population in cotton fields at present is quite low but is about the same as for this season last year. Field inspections made by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at College Station and by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine at Waco show that 50 per cent of the fields infested and an average of 76 weevils per acre. Records for the same date last year showed about the same percentage of fields infested and an average of 67 weevils per acre. Continued rains during May and June could develop severe infestations in many Texas cotton fields.

Flea hopper emergence from hibernation cages at College Station and at Waco has been slightly higher than last year. However, heavy rains during early April has probably reduced the population on native weeds to a considerable extent. Flea hoppers were found in about one-half of the fields inspected last week.

Thrips damage to seedling cotton to date has been slight. Heavy rains in many areas have kept native vegetation growing and blooming there has been but little movement into cotton fields.

County Cotton Meet Talks Insect Control

Latest methods of control of insects that infest cotton plants, will be discussed at a countywide meeting of cotton farmers in the Anson high school auditorium Thursday evening, June 2. Bill Lehmburg, county agent said this week.

In addition to the insect control discussion, problems that face cotton farmers will also be discussed. Fred Elliot, Fritz Lichte and Allen Gunter, all of the Texas A&M College extension service, will attend the meeting. The public is invited to attend, Lehmburg said.

Right Man, But Wrong Title in Herald Tale

It was the right man, and the right initials in a story in last week's Hamlin Herald—but the title was all wrong, it was pointed out by a reader.

In the story concerning the injury of Jimmy Smith, who fell from a truck at the Shell plant, O. G. Harvey was listed as being manager of the plant. And that is where the error crept in. Harvey is an employee at the plant, and J. D. Pigman is chief engineer, or manager.

Men beside Harvey who helped to bring Smith to the hospital were L. M. Sutherland, Doc Fuller and B. F. McIntyre.

Dr. Gould Discussed Soils, Food in Talk

A discussion on soils, food and health was given before the Rotary Club at the Wednesday noon luncheon meeting by Dr. Don Q. Gould of Hamlin.

Dean Witt, program chairman, introducing Dr. Gould, said the talk was slated in keeping with national Soil Conservation week.

"The soils of Texas are 80 per cent deficient in essential mineral content," Dr. Gould said. He then discussed how depleted soils mean depleted food values in the foods that we eat, and consequently lead to bad health conditions. He urged that business men as well as farmers take an interest in restoring the soils.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bonner and children, Robert and Janet, spent Sunday in Sweetwater with Mrs. Bonner's mother, Mrs. J. W. Clark.

Mrs. Ray Huling has returned to her home in Hamlin from Amarillo, where she has been visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Matheson.

Memories of Early Days Recalled To Hamlin Woman by Founder's Story

Vivid memories of the tribulations and triumphs known by early day settlers in Hamlin were recalled to the mind of Mrs. L. S. Magee, widow of the town's first doctor, when she read the story of J. F. McWilliams, founder of Hamlin. McWilliams' story was published in last week's Herald.

Mrs. Magee wrote at length on experiences and personalities known in those days almost 50 years ago. Her story follows:

"When I handed this piece to the editor of The Herald, he asked me if I would give him more details on when this town of Hamlin was being organized. I told him it would be like writing a book.

"My husband the late Dr. L. S. Magee, and I, arrived here in March, 1906, soon after the arrival of the McWilliams'. We brought three freight cars of building lumber, household furnishings and stock with us. There was no place for us to store our things, so we unloaded them at the depot and stretched a wagon sheet over them, which was put up in tent fashion. We lived in the makeshift tent until the rains came, and then we moved our furniture into Mr. McWilliams' house. We stayed there until one room of our house was completed.

"The first sick patient of Dr. Magee was the daughter of a merchant, the late D. O. Sauls, who had arrived here in March, also. The daughter is now Mrs. Martin McCain of Houston. Mrs. D. O. Sauls, widow of the merchant, still lives in Hamlin.

"Our first attorney was Tom Whitely, who later joined his brothers, Bob and Jim, in the real estate business. Bob Whitely still lives here. His three sisters are Mrs. Bird Creekmore of Houston, Miss Ollie Whitely and Miss Pearl Whitely. These people played an important part in laying out the townsite, and Bob still has an office here.

"J. W. Brian was the first real estate man in Hamlin. He had his office until his death, and then his widow carried on the business until about 10 years ago. She still lives here with her daughter, Mrs. L. L. Cowan.

"The Hamlin townsite was given to the Orient railroad by R. D. Moore, the father of Fred and Dick Moore of Hamlin. Fred came here and went into the real estate bu-ness, with an office in the rear of the bank. Later he worked in the bank for a time.

"People were coming here so fast it was impossible to keep up with them. They worked all night to get houses ready for their families. There were no church buildings at first, but the people soon began constructing houses of worship. As quickly as one church building would be completed we would build another. We were from various places and from all denominations, but we all worshipped together.

"Finally a tabernacle was erected and all faiths worshipped together. Shortly after this each denomination had its own place of worship.

"M. Y. Wilson and sons opened a hardware store in April, 1906. The sons were Oscar, Elmo, Guy and Floyd. Elmo died several years ago, and his widow helped to carry on the business until a few years ago, when she put in the Book Shop.

"The first newspaper man in Hamlin was Mr. Shelton of Roby, who founded the Hamlin Herald.

"W. L. Cash was the first section foreman for the Orient. He and Mrs. Cash live in Hamlin on the same block in which their first residence was built.

"Hamlin's first post office was a little house moved in from the country. It sat on the wagon it was moved in on, until we got the post office building completed. Mr. Burnam was the first post master. Oak Burnam, his son, is a prominent rancher here. Mrs. Abner Daniel and Mrs. Townsend are his daughters.

"The first school in Hamlin was conducted over a grocery store. It was taught by Mrs. Alva Walker of Austin. Mrs. Mary Farrow one of Mrs. Walker's pupils, is a teacher.

"The late Dr. Pardue, one of Hamlin's pioneers, was the father of Mrs. Holly Toler, whose husband is now mayor of Hamlin.

"The first child born in Hamlin was Hamlin McWilliams, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McWilliams of Waller, Texas.

"J. J. Waggoner, founder of the Waggoner Drug Store opened the store June 1, 1906—the first drug store in Hamlin. He and his sons operated the business until 1944 when J. J. Waggoner died. Since the death of the founder the business has been operated by Frank Waggoner and Mrs. Waggoner, assisted by their son, Jerry.

"In the same year Joe Bowen opened a drug store here. Bowen had two daughters, both of whom live in or near Hamlin. Miss Nettie Bowen is employed by Bryant-Link Co., and Mrs. Wallace Walton, the other daughter, lives on a farm near here.

"F. C. Bailey established a real estate office later in 1906 and worked hard in helping to organize Hamlin. He took a leading part in helping to build the First Methodist Church. His son, Clarence Bailey, is manager of the dry goods department of Bryant-Link.

"Among the memories that stand out clearest in my mind, is of the storm cellar Dr. Magee built. It was the first one in town, and he invited everyone to come to the cellar when a bad storm came up. At one time a total of 52 people crowded into the cellar shortly after it was completed.

"Pool Whittington had the first dry goods store here, and Pearl McClaren was its first clerk. She is now Mrs. Carl Greenway and is in the florist shop business.

the first grocery stores here, and was associated with the Pool Whittington company as manager of its grocery department. He died this year. One of his daughters is Miss Pearl Hudson, and several of Mr. Hudsons sons still live here.

"Many changes have taken place in Hamlin since those days so long ago. We now have a town of more than 4,000 people and have many improvements which were not even dreamed of in those days.

"If Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams will accept the invitation, I would like to have them as my guests when they celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, and Hamlin celebrates its golden jubilee. I'd like to try to pay them back for some of the nice things they did for us when we came here."

Mrs. Poe Hostess to Fair Circle WSCS

Mrs. George Poe was hostess in her home Monday afternoon to members of the Fair Circle of the Womens Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church. A program was presented, followed by a brief business session.

Mrs. Poe, assisted by Mrs. Albert Cunningham, served refreshments of ice cream and cookies.

Those present were Mrs. Jerry Waggoner, Mrs. Ned White, Mrs. Brad Rowland, A. B. Carlton, Mrs. D. W. Carlton, Mrs. J. H. Hudson, Mrs. W. T. Johnson, Mrs. Hilon Fields and Mrs. Lewis Madden, members. Visitors were Mrs. Jesse Burditt, Mrs. Landon V. Davis of Anson, and Mrs. S. C. Ferguson Jr.

This Year . . . Polio Is Striking Harder!

The number of polio cases has tripled this year—despite predictions that a polio decline would follow last year's record-smashing frequency.

The count on April 9, 1949, showed 123 new cases in Texas alone . . . as compared to only 39 on that date last year. Total count of polio cases in Texas for 1948 was 1,765 . . . thus putting Texas among the three most severely stricken states.

Your best bet before polio strikes is to observe the following rules:

- (1) Avoid crowds.
- (2) Avoid fatigue through strenuous play, over-exercise and irregular hours.
- (3) Avoid swimming in questionable waters.
- (4) Avoid sudden chilling.

Your best bet after polio strikes—is advance protection through our Special Disease Policy—bought early in the year. Our new policy covers Polio and seven other dread diseases: Spinal Meningitis, Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, Smallpox, Leukemia, Encephalitis and Tetanus. Pays up to $5,000.00 for treatment of each person.

Remember the men who can't forget

MEMORIES! A green hell on a South Pacific island. The brackish odor of coral blasted from a reef. The stench of enemy dead bloating in the tropic sun. A shell-swept hill in North Africa. The staccato rip of a German machine gun sweeping the beach at Anzio. The sudden blast of a hidden mine in Normandy. The biting cold and the panic of Bastogne. The jolting, shin-cracking explosion of a torpedo at sea. A suicide plane crashing through the deck of a carrier. Shells smashing into steel, with flying fragments tearing open the bowels of men and machines. Battle stations in the grim dawn. Stale air in a submarine, deep in the black waters of a strange sea alive with lurking death and destruction. Holding steady to course while dark, deadly flowers bloom in the sky. The horror of watching a wingman explode into atoms of bone and flesh. Blacking out in a dive. The searing, antiseptic cold of 20,000 feet. The flame, fear and thunder of bombardment.

Memories that carve into a man's soul. Memories that wake him out of sound sleep, trembling, and dripping with sweat.

Forget? It's not easy for the man with wounds that refuse to heal. It's not easy for the man with mental pictures or sounds that refuse to disappear. It's not easy for the man with muscles frozen by nervous tension.

The dead are buried. Their pain is ended. Their tired bodies have found peace.

But the disabled, the men who embraced age overnight, the men who can never live as God willed the right, still face the uncertain future.

These are the men the American people are thinking about when they give their bit to "Honor the dead by helping the living."

These are the men who are being helped by patriotic Americans when they accept the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy as an eloquent symbol of their own gratitude.

This year the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the organization that has sponsored the sale of Buddy Poppies ever since 1922, is celebrating its Golden Jubilee Anniversary.

In observing this 50th Anniversary, the V.F.W. is proud to renew its pledge to the American people that the proceeds of this annual sale of Buddy Poppies constitute a sacred fund. As in the past, the contribution you make through the purchase of a Buddy Poppy will be spent strictly for these patriotic purposes:

- For the aid, relief and comfort of disabled and needy veterans, their dependents, their widows and orphans.
- For maintenance or expansion of the V.F.W. National Home for widows and orphans of veterans at Eaton Rapids, Michigan.
- For hospital or individual assistance and entertainment for needy veterans and service patients, and their dependents.
- For rehabilitation, welfare and service work, including liaison service with the Veterans Administration.
- For necessary expenses for military funerals of deceased veterans.
- For acquisition, improvement and maintenance of burial plots and the decoration of graves of veterans and servicemen.

Early Treatment for Arthritis Is Advised to Avoid Permanent Effect

Most of us are inclined to make light of a "stiffness." It may come from walking or standing too long. Stiffness in the arms or hands may be caused by excessive stretching or by lifting heavy objects—things that also may cause a stiff back. Such discomfort is often dismissed as a slight, though painful annoyance that "will wear off."

Stiffness may be one of the first warnings of arthritis, an inflammation of the joints. Unfortunately, the warning is sometimes ignored until the disease has taken hold and prevention of the crippling or deformity that it causes may be difficult. Anyone who has pain, stiffness or swelling in a joint should go immediately to his doctor or hospital clinic. If the person has arthritis, prompt medical treatment can not only relieve the pain, but also prevent the disease from getting worse.

Arthritis can occur in many different forms. But there are two general types: acute and chronic. Acute arthritis, the form to which the word "rheumatism" is most commonly applied, usually starts with sharp, sudden pains and swelling in one or more joints. Sometimes this lasts a few weeks, then seems to go away.

Chronic arthritis develops slowly, first with stiffness in one joint, then stiffness in other points which remains indefinitely. It is the type of arthritis that frequently leads to permanent crippling and semi-invalidism when neglected.

Arthritis is known to result from a number of specific infections, although the cause of certain types is unknown.

Self-treatment is dangerous for a person who may have arthritis. So-called "rheumatism remedies" can be dangerous when they appear to give temporary relief and cause the patient to postpone visiting his doctor and getting the right treatment. In addition, such home measures as rubbing a painful joint or exercising it may be harmful. The doctor is the one to determine the cause of the arthritis and prescribe treatment that will be best for it.

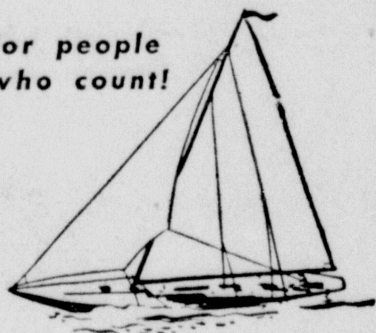

There is no special preventive for arthritis, but people who observe the rules of good health, especially those who get enough rest and avoid nervous tension and worry, seem less likely to get the disease than those who are careless and indifferent about healthful living. It is estimated there are about 7,000,000 people in the United States with chronic arthritis or some form of rheumatism. Much of the pain and crippling that it brings, however, can be avoided with prompt medical treatment.

New Generator to Double Capacity of Plant for WTU

The West Texas Utilities Company this week announced plans for doubling the generating capacity of the Lake Pauline plant. A 27,000 horse power turbo-generator is to be added to the present generating equipment making available more than 47,000 horse power for electric power generation.

"This generator will provide additional electric power for the industrial and agricultural development of this region," said Price Campbell, WTU Co. president. The Pauline plant expansion is a basic part of the Company's $20,000,000 construction program to provide more and better electric service for the area we serve.

The turbo-generator, which will require more than five freight cars to transport from the factory, was ordered in April, 1947 and Company plans and work predicated that order by many months. The manufacturer has promised delivery of the unit in the fall of 1950. When the unit goes into operation in April, 1951, it will have taken more than four years overall since the start to complete the project.

"The installation of the new generating unit is but a small part of the necessary work," Campbell pointed out. An addition, 75 feet by 63 feet, equivalent to a steel framed masonry and concrete building four stories high will be built to house the new unit. Thousands of cubic yards of concrete will be poured and millions of pounds of steel set in place to prepare the foundation for the generating unit alone. In addition, a huge boiler 40 feet by 59 feet by 39 feet, capable of generating 250,000 pounds of steam per hour, will be
